

WHAT IF We Were Claiming The Path of Possibilities?

What if ten percent of this and every day went devoted to being a non-resisting channel/medium of universal presence?.. That's about 2 ½ hours a day. .Would we become a civilization of effortless oneness orientation? Would silence and non-verbal communion be the essence of our art,science,religion,spirituality and celebration?

What if this moment, this instant, were totally overtaken with deep unmistakeable oneness,as universal immediacy? What if no one anywhere was having a sense of personal priority or of personal agenda, no country,no nation, no religion, no planet.. just immediate universal presence with no language.with nothing onto which a personal sense could be attached?

What if we were without any you and me, without any them's and us, without any past or future? What if all we could perceive was this boundless instant? What if every day was permeated with an unspeakable serene untroubled presence equally active everywhere in allness?

What if all our private dreams and visions were dissolved immediately into a waking state of eternal wellness, ease and vast comfort.and all we knew was that this moment is blessing everything,everyone everywhere?

What if we all decided to never go back to sleep ever again, and just stayed awake as this current universal presence? What if this was your idea first, and you were just now sharing it with me?
Laraaji Nandananda